

Student Debt Well-Being Program

Student Loan Assistance Program

For colleagues who meet the criteria (see below), Nebraska Medicine will help pay down your student loans. Nebraska Medicine will pay either:

- your monthly minimum payment
- OR
- Up to $437.50 per month, whichever amount is less

Program eligibility requirements

- You must be a full-time employee of .9 or above in an eligible job code
- You must be in good standing based on Nebraska Medicine standards
- Student loan(s) must be in your name, for your undergraduate education, or in a positive status including repayment, in-school deferment, or grace. Parent Plus Loans are not eligible
- Only loans for your undergraduate education are eligible
- Loans must be from a qualifying U.S. financial institution

Contribution details

The maximum Nebraska Medicine can contribute to your student loans per calendar year is $5,250. According to IRS regulations, if your student loan payments combined with tuition or certification assistance exceed $5,250 annually, you will be taxed on each dollar exceeding that amount. Tuition.io will not automatically turn off contributions; you must stop the payments if desired.

These payments will continue if you are in a full-time eligible job code and remain in good standing. There is no lifetime maximum. Payments are made directly to the loan providers by mid-month following the month of certification.

Please note

If you are eligible and interested in participating in the Student Loan Assistance Program, you must register with tuition.io and successfully link your eligible student loans by the 22nd day of the month. If additional documentation is needed, you will receive an email from tuition.io by the end of the month. Contributions to your student loan account will not be made until all required documentation has been received by tuition.io.

What you will need to get started

- Loan servicer account username and password
- Loan account number(s)
